| “BUERGSONNDEG” (Bonfire day) Sunday 26.02, a large wooden cross is set on fire in the Petrusse Valley in order to figuratively “burn the winter”.

| “Printemps musical-Festival de Luxembourg”, spring 2006
The “Printemps musical-Festival de Luxembourg” celebrates its 24th edition in spring 2006. The first concert took place in 1983, the year of the Golden Jubilee of the Luxembourg City Tourist Office. The festival has thrived on its own philosophy: not being restrictive, but open minded to all forms of musical expression.
Beside its classical part, the programme has each year a jazz and song repertoire, with the participation of performers of international renown and talented local artists. The aim of the festival is to encourage affinities between classical and amplified music, and above all jazz. The purpose is to abolish any obsolete segregation of the so-called “serious music” from the “light” music.
Finally, the “Printemps musical-Festival de Luxembourg”, unique of its kind, presents first-class concerts ranging from classical music and jazz to “chanson” and other form of popular music.

“EMAISCHEN”, Easter Monday, 17.04

Traditional celebration of Emmaus. Early on Easter Monday, a motley crowd jostles behind the Palace of the Grand Dukes on the small square of the Fishmarket, to buy one of the small whistling birds - in baked clay - which are only sold that day.

“OCTAVE NOTRE-DAME”, 7.-21.05

Traditional Pilgrimage (since 1666) to honour Our Lady of Luxembourg, the patron saint. Lasts from the third to the fifth Sunday after Easter and represents the main religious ceremony of the country.

ING EUROPE-MARATHON LUXEMBOURG, 27.05

A night run with European flair in the heart of Luxembourg-City.

The ING Europe-Marathon Luxembourg will be the ultimate European running experience: an unusual route (either marathon or half-marathon) leads that evening, under the light of torches, lamps and Bengal illuminations, from the modern banking and financial centre with its architectural sights to the splendid historic heart of the city. This major sporting event will highlight European diversity, culture and history. The estimated 3,500 to 5,000 competitors can opt to run either full or half distance – and they can make that choice during the race! The route does not split until the 17.6 kilometre mark. www.ing-europe-marathon.lu

“NEW ORLEANS MEETS LUXEMBOURG”, 2.-5.06

New Orleans’ culture is defined by perseverance and music. Black music and hot sound, those are the ingredients for 4 days of live music - jazz, brass, gospel and much more – as well as the unique atmosphere of the Southern States.

“SUMMER IN THE CITY”, 21.06-16.09, summer programme with open air concerts (Rock um Knuedler,...), streetfestivals, exhibitions etc. www.summerinthecity.lu

OPENING ACT “SUMMER IN THE CITY” and “FÊTE DE LA MUSIQUE”, 21.06 music celebration in honour of all various styles of music. “Knuedler goes classic” Open-air concert with the Luxembourg Philharmonic Orchestra on the “Place Guillaume II”. www.fetedelamusique.lu

EVE OF THE NATIONAL HOLIDAY, 22.06

The eve of the National Holiday is a gala occasion for the capital city. A torchlight tattoo will lighten the bd Roosevelt, bd Royal, rue Aldringen, Grand-Rue, rue du Marché-aux-Herbes, rue de la Reine and the place Guillaume II from 10 p.m. onwards. Grand fireworks will illuminate the Pétrusse Valley. Rock, pop and folklore concerts as well as dj sessions will liven up the streets, bars and cafés of the capital till dawn.

NATIONAL HOLIDAY, 23.06, with official ceremonies (military parade, Te Deum, 101 canon shots etc.)

“ROCK UM KNUEDLER”, 2.07

First organized in 1991 when Luxembourg held the Presidency of the European Community, Rock um Knuedler became the rock “rendez-vous par excellence”. Initially created as a platform for local bands, this festival headlines since 1995 also international bands and artists. So this unbeatable festival has become an obligatory appearance for all Luxembourg bands. The bands are sharing two stages (horse stage and lion stage) in the very heart of the City of Luxembourg on the Place Guillaume II, also called the “Knuedler”. Fans of rock music are spoiled for choice. Since it began in 1991, “Rock um Knuedler” has been free to the public, audiences being as large as 8.000-10.000.

SIGISMUNDUS, REX ET IMPERATOR Art and Culture under the last ruler of the Luxembourg Dynasty (1387-1437)

13.07-15.10

National Museum of History and Art

The exhibition dedicated to Sigismund of Luxembourg (1387-1437) and his time is a joint project of the Museum of Fine Arts, Budapest and the Musée national d'histoire et d'art, Luxembourg.

The goal of the exhibition is to present the personality and times as well as the artistic milieu of Sigismund of Luxembourg, king of Hungary (1387), and king (1410/11) and later emperor (1433) of the Holy Roman Empire. The exhibition will centre on Sigismund's colourful personality, his political career and his patronage, although other objectives include the detailed presentation of the cultural and artistic phenomena and works associated with the emperor's lifework. The great series of portraits of Sigismund of Luxembourg will be on display for the first time alongside the statues of Buda Castle and other artworks created for his residence. The exhibition will also show the masterpieces of the famed goldsmiths of Transylvania as well as the precious works associated with the knightly Order of the Dragon, a community whose name was derived from the mythological beast defeated by St. George. The works associated with Sigismund and his immediate environment will be supplemented by artworks from other royal courts and artistic centers of the period.

The exhibition will present more than 400 artworks from approximately 120 great libraries, museums and treasuries throughout Europe, including the principal Hungarian national collections, the Bayerische Staatsbibliothek and the Staatliche Graphische Sammlung in Munich, the Liebighaus in Frankfurt, the British Museum in London, the Bibliothèque Nationale and the Louvre in Paris, the Metropolitan Museum in New York, the Brukental Museum in Sibiu, the Kunsthistorisches Museum and the Österreichische Nationalbibliothek in Vienna, such as the Vatican Libraries.

FLIES

| Autumn 2006/Winter 2007

National Museum for Natural History

Visitors will discover the beauty and the huge diversity of the diptera, whose enormous importance for ecosystems is underestimated. From malaria to asticotherapy, from language to pesticides, the exhibition is an emotional, naturalistic and artistic journey to the universe of these unrecognized insects.

Finally, the exhibition "Flies" is dealing with the long history of proximity and conflicts between men and flies. This very beautiful exhibition developed by the Natural History Museum of Neuchâtel in Switzerland, got the price for the best exhibition of the year by the Natural Sciences Academy of Switzerland.

| 13.12.2006 - 16.04.2007

Musée d'Art Moderne Grand-Duc Jean

Michel Majerus, Katze, 1993
Installationsansicht
Kunsthalle Basel, 1996

The collected works (paintings and installations) of Michel Majerus will be assembled for a first great monographic exhibition at the Musée d'Art Moderne Grand-Duc Jean. The vernissage is part of the official opening programme of "Luxembourg and Greater Region, European Capital of Culture 2007".

Michel Majerus, born in 1967 in Luxembourg, was one of the most promising painters. During his very short career he produced an extraordinary body of work, combining the pictorial world of new media with references to the history of art.

CENTENARY OF THE CONSERVATOIRE

| March-October

Museum of the History of the City of Luxembourg

Tackling the history of the Conservatory of Music, its famous students and teachers as a subject, the exhibition celebrates the first centenary of the music-school once installed in the location of the Museum of the History of the City of Luxembourg.

The Belgian composer Victor Vreuls was the first director of the Conservatoire (1906-1926)

“Wer hat Angst vor dem schwarzen Mann?” A short story about the Gypsies in Europe

| 09.12.2006-June 2007

Museum of the History of the City of Luxembourg

The gypsies, that elusive and misunderstood people, conjure up fantasy, fear and fascination all at once, and in today's Europe are a mysterious embodiment of “Differentness” and “the Other”. Based on the “gypsy” phenomenon, the Museum of the History of the City of Luxembourg will invite visitors to recognize and sidestep the imagery that is most widespread in western societies.

BACK TO THE FUTURE

L'Art de l'Afrique Noire – Patrimoine Culturel et Actualité

| 11.11.2005-03.02.2006

Centre Culturel de Rencontre Abbaye de Neumünster

The Neumünster Abbey Cultural and Meeting Centre in Luxembourg will be presenting a large selection from the collection of Heidrun and Artur Elmer, one of the most important collections of African art in Europe. Sculptures in wood and stone, bronzes, masks, statuettes, earthenware objects and textiles representative of the exceptional creativity and extraordinary diversity of African art and culture, on the one hand illustrate the close links between artistic traditions and their development as far as the present day, throughout the continent of Africa, and on the other hand the needs, requirements and challenges of individual and social life in Africa.

JÜRGEN SCHADEBERG

| 01.04.-16.05

Centre Culturel de Rencontre Abbaye de Neumünster

Some 150 photographs by Jürgen Schadeberg, the “father of South African photography”, will be on display at the Neumünster Abbey. German by origin, born in 1931, Jürgen Schadeberg contributed, as photographer and artistic director of Drum Magazine, to forging a strong and original visual identity for the black community of South Africa. He rubbed shoulders with prominent figures in the Johannesburg music scene and kept company with the great leaders of the anti-apartheid battle, like Nelson Mandela, whom he photographed over almost half a century. His work, which covers more than 52 years and consists of more than 100,000 negatives, reveals an undeniable historic, social and political dimension.

Theatre

GRAND THÉÂTRE DE LUXEMBOURG

The "Grand Théâtre" will further enhance its reputation as an innovatory theatre by once again combining classical works and post-modern productions in a carefully balanced programme. In its opera programme, the "Grand Théâtre" will focus resolutely on quality and eclecticism. Audiences can look forward to large-scale cooperation projects in 2005-2006, with Il re pastore by Mozart, a production by La Monnaie/Brussels, followed in May 2006 by Mozart Short Cuts, a new production by Macha Makeïeff and Jérôme Deschamps, with the participation of the famous Accentus choir conducted by Laurence Equilbey, in an opera based on a selection of Mozart's incomplete and unfinished works. In a coproduction with theatres from Brussels and Paris, the theatre will present Vespers (working title), an opera directed by Alain Platel with music by Monteverdi. To round off the season, the "Grand Théâtre" will be presenting Rossini's much-loved opera Il barbiere di Siviglia, directed by Dario Fo.

Trisha Brown Dance Company

Prestigious dance companies will also be on stage in Luxembourg, with performers including the grande dame of modern dance Trisha Brown, Sasha Waltz, Hubbard Street Dance Chicago and the Grupo Corpo/Brazil.

Regarding drama, one of the theatre productions will be The Little Match Girl, a darkly humorous and wild play by the Tiger Lillies, inspired by Hans Christian Andersen's tale.
